Chess Director Abel Talamantez Stepping Down January 31, 2022

I want to let everyone know that I will be stepping down as Chess Director of the Mechanics' Institute on January 31, 2022. These past 3+ years have been an incredible ride and a wonderful opportunity to contribute to the glorious history of the Mechanics' Institute's chess club. I'm proud of all the work we have accomplished in expanding events, growing scholastic programs, and creating program offerings like classes for the chess community, as well as our broadcasting of live events. Among my my most memorable moments are the 2019 Mechanics' Institute Rapid Championship sponsored by the PRO Chess League which drew 37 titled players, including 13 Grandmasters that included world #2 GM Fabiano Caruana and US Champion GM Sam Shankland. The broadcast of the event can be found HERE. US Chess article on the event is HERE. Also on the list is the tandem simul event with super GM's Shakhriyar Mamedyarov and Rauf Mamedov, broadcast can be found HERE.

My proudest moment was keeping our community together through the pandemic when everything was in lockdown through our online events. The value of the chess club can not be measured in words, and during a time of immense uncertainty and fear, where everyone was indoors, the chess club was accessible to all, with weekly events and programming, which included tournaments, arenas, interviews, classes, and chats.

Of course all of this would not have been possible without the hard work of the greatest chess team anyone could ask for. I am forever grateful to Judit Sztaray, FM Paul Whitehead, and GM Nick de Firmian for the their friendship, camaraderie, and teamwork throughout these years. We faced many challenges, and we met those challenges together as one. I can tell you that the energy, fun, passion and love for what we do in truly genuine, and it has been an honor to be a part of that at the club. We will always be a team, and I am forever grateful for that.

One of my biggest regrets in not doing more for the stronger scholastic players in the community through norm events or regular FIDE events that encouraged participation from stronger players. Perhaps this can be something to be considered in moving forward, as the chess community clearly needs this. It would be wrong to discuss the successes without touching on some of the regrets.

Most of all, I want to thank the amazing chess community at the Mechanics' Institute. My goal in coming here was to bring communities together through chess, but the lessons I learned from the community has been a greater education for me than I could ever have imagined. Thank you all for accepting me in, for giving a stranger a chance, and allowing me to learn and love the chess culture and people. It has given me a strong sense of perspective regarding the value of the history of the club, and the power of the newsletter and broadcasts as a source of connection between the people and history.

The number of people there are to thank are too numerous to list, and I'll be doing that separately. I will continue to be a part of the club, either in helping where needed or participating in events. This is not a farewell, but rather a new beginning, as I will begin an exciting new challenge taking everything I learned here and throughout my life to use chess as a social empowerment and community building tool for kids.

Thank you for all your support, and I will always be grateful for the opportunity to serve as the 10th Chess Director of the Mechanics' Institute.

Abel Talamantez, January 13, 2022.

Bobby and the Summer of 1957

by IM John Donaldson

Bobby Fischer, after winning the US Junior held in the Castro at the Spreckels Dairy, spent a month in California. He then headed East in a car supplied by Guthrie McClain. William Addison was at the wheel with Fischer, Gil Ramirez, John Rinaldo and William Rebold as passengers. This was just before the establishment of the Interstate system so the 2500-mile journey was even more of a grind than normal. Driving through Nevada and Utah in the middle of the summer could not have been a picnic, especially with no air conditioning. At some point tempers flared, and the young Bobby, who got tired of being compared to Crusader Rabbit, lunged at his tormentor John Rinaldo, but accidentally sank his teeth into Ramirez's arm instead. Gil automatically responded by swinging at Bobby who showed up at the US Open with a black eye. Fischer went on to make his big breakthrough by winning the event.

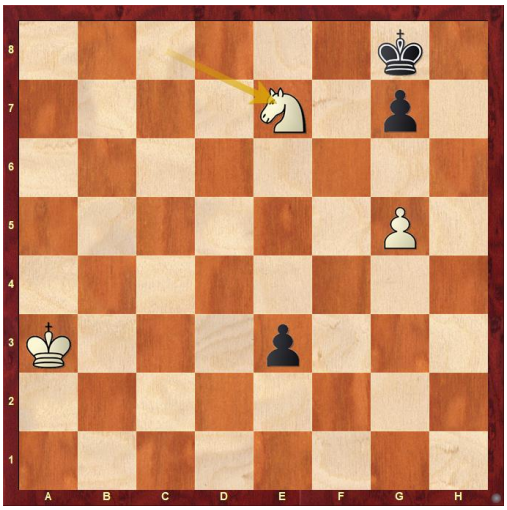
A half century later Fischer's will was contested requiring him to be disinterred for his DNA. The test did not support the claim of a Filipino women that her daughter was Bobby's child, but maybe Gil Ramirez still has Bobby's DNA in him?

On page 119 of Bobby Fischer and His World, an endgame study is given which Fischer showed to the late Bill Haines of Vallejo and other participants in the 1957 US Junior. Haines couldn't recall who composed the study which is a perfect illustration that a queen cannot win by itself. Low and behold a few days ago, while studying Chess Tactics for Advanced Players by Yury Averbakh (a great book that is in the MI library and available for only $5 at US Chess sales in the clearance bin), I stumbled upon the exact study on pages 245-46. It was composed by P. Ilyin in 1947.



White to play and draw.

How can the pawn be stopped? Hint- it can't!

1.Ne7+ Kh7 2.g6+ Kh8 3.Kb4 e2 4.Kc5 e1Q 5.Kd6

The blockade of the king cannot be lifted and the queen cannot win by itself. For example: 5…Qe4 6.Kd7 Qe5 7.Kd8 Qe6 8.Ke8 Qd6 9.Kf7 Qd7 10.Kf8 Qd8+ 11.Kf7 and no progress.

2022 IM Walter Shipman TNM Round 2 Report

by Abel Talamantez

Round 2 of the TNM is in the books, and IM Elliott Winslow continues to be one of the leaders with a win against Mechanics' veteran Kristian Clemens. Christophe Bambou walked into NM Michael Walder's preparation as Walder gets the win to go to 1.5/2 for the tournament. Jayden Xu continued his wizardry for a second week in a row, as he won on time again when his opponent William Gray began a calculation of the position and lost track of time. Larry Snyder emailed me last week and mentioned that this phenomenon should be referred to as chess rapture. His reasoning is as follows, in reference to last week's game against Lucas Lesniewski, "It is akin to the common term, rapture of the deep, one form of which occurs when scuba divers get so fascinated with and engrossed in their surroundings, they lose track of their tank's oxygen supply, with sometimes fatal consequences. Instead of being immersed in water, Lesniewski was immersed in chess, in the position on the board". I think a good case can be made that this term should be included in the chess vocabulary, and now it has happened two weeks in a row. Xu joins Winslow, Edward Lewis and Kayven Riese at 2/2.

In the under 1800 section, five players still have perfect scores, including Stephen Parsons, Sebby Suarez, Albert Starr, Nursultan Uzakbaev, and Ashwin Vaidyanathan, Here are some games from the round, annotated by GM Nick de Firmian.

(1) Gray, William - Xu, Jayden [D03]

TNM, 11.01.2022

1.Nf3 Nf6 2.d4 e6 3.Bg5 The Torre Attack. A good way to avoid a lot of theory. 3...d5 4.Nbd2 c5 5.e3 Bd6

6.e4! normally you don't want to move a pawn twice in the early opening. Here though it works - 6...Be7 [6...dxe4?! 7.Nxe4 is clearly better for White] 7.e5 Nfd7 8.Bxe7 Qxe7 9.c3 Now we have transposed into a French Defense. White has a little edge here. 9...Nc6 10.Bd3 cxd4 11.cxd4 0-0 12.0-0 f6 13.exf6 Nxf6 14.Re1 Bd7 15.a3 White's pawns are well placed on the dark squares. The backward black e-pawn and the somewhat passive black bishop on d7 are the negatives for Black. Yet the developed black pieces and open f-file is open give chances for activity. 15...Rac8 16.Rc1 Qd6 17.Rc3 [17.Nb3] 17...Qf4 18.g3 Qh6 19.Bf1 Ng4 20.h3 Nf6 21.h4 Ng4 22.Bh3!? [again 22.Nb3 is very solid] 22...e5!

starting the action. This gives Black equal chances. 23.Qb3 Rcd8? [23...Nxd4 24.Qxd5+ Be6 25.Qxb7 Rb8 would be a dynamically balanced postion] 24.dxe5 now White wins a pawn 24...Ncxe5? [24...Ngxe5 25.Qxd5+ Kh8 26.Nxe5 Nxe5 27.Bxd7 Rxd7 28.Qxe5 Qxd2 is just a pawn ahead for White] 25.Bxg4? [25.Rxe5! Nxe5 26.Qxd5+ Kh8 27.Nxe5 is a winning material advantage for White.] 25...Nxg4 26.Rd3 [26.Qxd5+!] 26...Bc6 27.Rd4 Qh5 28.Qd1 Qf5 29.Rf4 Qd7

The game is back to even material and even chances. 30.Rd4 Rde8 31.Rxe8 Rxe8 32.Rf4 Ne5 33.Nxe5 Rxe5 34.Nf3 Re7 35.Rd4 Qf5 36.Rf4 Qh5 [36...Qd7 is equal] 37.Qd4! Nicely centralizing the queen and blockading the d-pawn 37...Re2 38.Ng5 h6 39.Nf3 a6 40.Qc5 Qg6 41.Nd4

41...Rxb2? Jayden couldn't resist the tempting pawn. This takes the black rook away from the defense of the king and allows White a winning attack. 42.Qe7?! [42.Qf8+ Kh7 43.Rf7! Rb1+ 44.Kh2 Rb2 45.Re7 followed by 43 Ne6 wins by hitting g7. The players were in serious time pressure though so this would be hard to see.] 42...Rd2?! [42...Kh7 43.Ne6 Rb1+ 44.Kh2 d4! would hold a draw 45.g4 Rh1+ 46.Kg3 Rg1+ 47.Kh2 Rh1+] 43.Ne6 Re2

White is winning after 44. Qd8+ Be8 45 Re8+ Kh7 46 Qxe8, but William tragically lost on time. An intense and hard fought battle. 0-1

(2) Reed, Paul - Barreyro, Romeo [B08]

TNM, 11.01.2022

1.e4 d6 2.d4 g6 3.Nf3 Bg7 4.Bc4 Nf6 5.Nc3 0-0 6.Bg5 h6 7.Bf4 Nh5 8.Be3 c6 9.Qd2 Kh7 10.h3 b5 11.Bd3 Nf6

I like this position as a spectator. Both sides have chosen aggressive play and we have a full scale battle in the works with White looking to storm the kingside. Objectively White has an edge, but Black has lots of possibilites. 12.Rd1 Na6 13.a3 b4 14.Ne2 bxa3 15.bxa3 Rb8 16.0-0 Ng8?! 17.e5! Taking more central territory. 17...d5 18.Nh2 Nc7 19.f4 [19.Nf4!] 19...e6 20.Nf3 Ba6 21.Bxa6 Nxa6 22.h4!? Qe7 [22...Ne7] 23.Qc1 Rb7 24.g4 Rfb8 25.Nc3 Rb2 26.Rd3 c5

27.Na4! R2b5?! [objectively better was 27...Rb1 28.Qxb1 Rxb1 29.Rxb1 c4 with about equal chances] 28.dxc5 Nxc5?! A practical decision to sacrifice the exchange. White has objectively a big advantage but it's not so easy to play as the black minor pieces work well with the pawn structure. 29.Nxc5 Rxc5 30.Bxc5 Qxc5+ 31.Kg2 Bf8 32.h5 Ne7 33.Rh1 Rc8 34.Nd4 Nc6? [34...gxh5 35.Rxh5 Nc6] 35.hxg6+ fxg6 36.Nxe6 winning the e-pawn should be a clear win for White now 36...Qc4 37.Nxf8+ Rxf8 38.Rf1 [38.Kg3!] 38...Qe4+ 39.Kg3 d4 40.Qe1 Qd5 keeping play in the postion [40...Rxf4 41.Qxe4 Rxe4 42.c3 should be a winning endgame] 41.c3 Qc4 42.Qd2?

42...Nxe5! A great shot, winning back the exchange! 43.Rd1?! [43.fxe5 Rxf1 44.Rxd4 is still an edge for White] 43...Nxd3 44.Qxd3 Qxd3+ 45.Rxd3 dxc3 46.Rxc3 Rf7 The dust has settled and we have an even rook ending with 3 pawns each. 47.a4 Re7 48.f5 gxf5 49.gxf5 Kg7 50.Rc4 Kf6 51.Kf4 Rd7 52.Rc6+ Kg7 53.Ke5 h5 54.Ke6 Rf7 55.Rc4 Rf6+ 56.Ke5 Rf7 57.Rh4 Kh6 58.Ke6 Rb7 59.Rd4 Kg5 60.Rd6 Rb4 61.f6 Re4+?! [61...Kg6!] 62.Kf7 Rxa4 63.Kg7 Rf4 64.f7

64...Rxf7+! 65.Kxf7 h4 66.Ra6 h3 67.Rxa7 Kg4 68.Ke6 h2 69.Rh7 Kg3 70.Ke5 Kg2 71.Rxh2+ A great battle down to just kings in the end. 1/2-1/2

Bob Burger Memorial Report

by Abel Talamantez

43 players participated in the Bob Burger Memorial on Saturday January 8th. Joshua Lamstein was the winner of the 1800+ section with 3.4/4, which included a very impressive victory over Lucas Lesniewski. Lesniewski and Alejandro Canales tied for 2nd with 3/4. In the u/1800 section, it was a 3-way tie for 1st between Daniel Perlov, Andrew Ballantyne, and Jan Erik Solem with 3.5/4. Congratulations to the winners and thank you to all the participants for their support of the Mechanics' Institute.

Nick de Firmian’s Column

Predictions for 2022

What will the new year bring for chess? I will give you a few predictions here – to start it should be a brighter, more interesting year than the last two. W of live events and the return of many classic traditional tournaments.

Who will win the Candidate’s Tournament this June in Madrid? The usual bet is to go with youth – the highly motivated up and coming players who live chess. I’m betting against that. As good as world #2 Alireza Firouzja is and the great success of brilliant young Nordirbek Abdusattorov, I will anyway g veteran. My pick is our own Fabiano Caruana. After a narrow failure in the 2018 world championship match and a miss in the 2020 Candidates, I think be set to give his all this time for the quest. He certainly has the experience and talent and I believe his motivation will be peaked as his time is running youngsters will be great, yet they are not ready for the ultimate battle this time.

The biggest question is who will win the year’s most important event? That’s not the Candidate’s or any super-event with Magnus. No, the great import tournament is the 50th anniversary of the Tuesday Night Marathon! Our club takes priority over those foreign events. You can also predict the winner a with the all time leader of TNM victories, IM Elliott Winslow. I predict instead an unknown dark horse. Perhaps John Donaldson will decide to dust off h enter the arena. Will Paul Whitehead venture into the melee? The TNM will be very special this year and even more exciting than usual. The under 18( also be exciting. Will longtime trustee Mike Hilliard take a victory? The under 1800 section is even tougher though as new improving talents make their first. I believe young Keven Sun will have a breakthrough year. My one surely accurate prediction is that this year will be a lot of fun at our club! We giv games below of these possible tournament victors.

(1) Anand,Vishy - Caruana,Fabiano [C79]

Gashimov Mem., 21.12.2021

This is a battle of former World Champion Anand against Fabiano, who is more than 20 years his junior. Anand is still a force to be reckoned with, part playing the white pieces. 1.e4 e5 2.Nf3 Nc6 3.Bb5 Of course the Ruy Lopez is a fine opening but it may be a sign of his age that Anand plays this inst trendy 3. Bc4. 3...a6 4.Ba4 d6 A slightly unusual Modern Steinitz variation. It is certainly respectable even if not in fashion. 5.0-0 Bd7 6.c3 g6 7.d4 Bg 9.h3 [9.Bxc6 Bxc6 10.dxe5 Nxe4 is alright for Black] 9...0-0 10.Bc2 Re8 11.d5 Closing the center makes the game like a King's Indian Defense where press on the queenside and Black on the kingside. 11...Ne7 12.c4 h6 13.Nc3 Nh7 14.b4 f5 15.c5 f4

16.Nd2 [16.Ba4! would have given White a slight edge as the light-squared bishop is Black's "good" bishop - on the opposite color of the pawns in the chain.] 16...Rf8 17.Ba4 Bc8 Fabiano saves this bishop now as it is helps with the attack, covering the g4 and h3 squares. 18.cxd6 cxd6 19.b5 g5 20.I 21.Bb5 Ra8 22.Be2 Ng6 23.Rb1 Nh4 24.a4?! [Once again he should have used an opportunity to trade the light-squared bishops with 24.Bg4] 24...N 26.Nc4 clearly White has a powerful queenside initiative with control of many squares. Is Black too slow on the kingside? 26...Bf8 27.Nb6

27...Rg7! Going for glory! Caruana sacrifices a whole rook to jump start the kingside attack. 28.Nxa8?! It's difficult not to grab a whole rook when offer perhaps Vishy should have declined it and played 28. g4 with more defensive chances. 28...g4 29.hxg4?! very natural but now the black attack gathe Perhaps better was [29.g3 gxh3 30.Qd3] 29...Nxg4 30.Bf3 The defense is tough here. Black has two knights, a bishop, queen and rook bearing down king's position. There are simply more attackers than defenders. Still, black needs to break through. 30...Qg5

31.Nb6 [running doesn't solve the problem - 31.Kf1 Nxf3 32.gxf3 Nxf2! 33.Qc2 Qg2+ 34.Ke2 Rg3 35.Kd2 Qxf3 36.Re2 Bg4 37.Rbe1 Rg2 38.Nb6 Qg3 wins] 31...Nh2!!

A crushing shot! The knight gives its life to keep the white king in the deadly zone of the g and h files. 32.Kxh2 [32.Nxc8 N2xf3+] 32...Nxg2 Anand res is no way out. 33. Rg1 Qh4 is mate. If 33. Rh1 Qh4+ 34 Kg1 Ne3+ 0-1

(2) Jorge E Sammour-Hasbun - John William Donaldson [B22]

Mermaid Beach Club Bermuda Bermuda (5), 01.1997

This game was played at the beautiful Mermaid Beach Club resort in Bermuda. A wonderful place for a chess vacation. 1.Nf3 c5 2.e4 Nc6 John is alw play the black side of the Accelerated Dragon after 3. d4 cxd4 4. Nxd4 g6. 3.c3 Jorge is wary of John's theoretical knowledge and chooses a tame line Qxd5 5.d4 Nf6 6.Na3 Bg4! 7.Bc4 Qe4+ 8.Be3 cxd4 9.cxd4 e6

Anyway John is well versed in the theory and gets a very comfortable position with black. White has the isolated d-pawn but not so much of the usual a accompany it. 10.Nc2?! [10.0-0!] 10...Be7 11.Be2 0-0 12.0-0 Rfd8 13.h3 Bf5 There is certainly no need to trade the fine black bishop for the knight or Qd5 15.b3 Rac8

We set a diagram here to take a look at the black set-up. It is a classic well developed position with every piece in a good place. This is the style of you director, who plays a very principled game. 16.Bc4 Qd6 17.Bd3 Ne4! The black knight threatens to jump into c3 and cause trouble. 18.Bxe4?! Giving squared bishop is a permanent disadvantage. 18...Bxe4 19.Nd2 Bg6 20.Nf3 Bf6 21.Qe2 Ne7 22.Bg5 Bxg5 23.Nxg5 Qf4 24.Nf3 Be4 John uses the s squared bishop to create serious trouble. The white f-pawns may get doubled and the d4 pawn weak. Black keeps the options. 25.Ne3 Rxc1 26.Rxc1 27.Nd2? White is losing the d-pawn anyway but should get something better than the game. [27.a3 Bxf3 28.Qxf3 Qxf3 29.gxf3 Rxd4 30.b4 at least has the endgame] 27...Nxd4 28.Qc4 Bc6!

Again Black's positon is a picture of harmony. Every black piece is extremely well placed, and there is a pawn plus to boot. 29.Ndf1 h5 30.Rd1 Rd7 A move to place the rook on a better (and defended) square. 31.Rd2?!

31...Nf3+! A tactic to finish this fine positional buildup. 32.gxf3 Qxf3 The light-squared bishop shows its strength. White resigned as 33. Kh2 Rxd2 34.

mate next. I hope we see John playing again soon. Anywhere is good, but the TNM would be best. 0-1

Solution to Tony's Teaser

1. Qd4!! cxd4 2. Rf7 Kc5 3. Rc7#

If 1...Kb7 2. Rf7+ Kb8 3. Qh8#

If 2...Ka6 3. Qa1#
